

Useful Websites for Career Information

<http://www.myfuture.edu.au/>

An interactive, online career exploration service that is aimed at all individuals wishing to explore their career options, with a particular emphasis on students. Individuals are able to explore their skills and interests, identify their career ideas, develop their career plan and research options for further study or training.

<http://www.jobguide.dest.gov.au/>

Provides an in-depth look at a range of occupations, and their education and training pathways. It also gives useful information about how to work out what occupations suit best, based on interests and abilities.

<http://www.abc.net.au/acedayjobs/>

Ace Day Jobs: Online videos and information about people who enjoy their work

<http://www.careeradviceaustralia.gov.au/>

Provides useful information and resources for parents, and students. There are numerous links that are all current to employment services, apprenticeship centres etc. There is also a handy school leaver's guide.

http://www.careeradviceaustralia.gov.au/documents/sl_resource_guides/act.pdf

Careers Planning and Pathway Information

<http://www.careeradviceaustralia.gov.au/youthpathways/>

Assists the most at-risk young people make a successful transition through to completion of Year 12 and further education, training or employment and active participation in the community

<http://www.year12whatnext.gov.au/>

Information to help plan post-school education and training. Individuals are able to learn about future work opportunities and find out where to get help and information. Some great information on employability skills, skill shortages and employment growth areas.

<http://www.goingtouni.gov.au/>

This website has a lot of information about higher education, as well as sections on fees, loans and scholarships, courses and providers, resources and overseas study.

<http://www.workplace.gov.au/>

Information about employment and government assistance in Australia including wages, working conditions, labour markets and careers

<http://www.jobjuice.gov.au/default.htm>

Employment information with links to other useful sites. There is a fantastic career quiz and resume builder on this site as well as a section for identifying career goals.

<http://www.jobsearch.gov.au/>

Provides information on job prospects, earnings, type of work and other occupational information and related courses and vacancies

<http://www.apsjobs.gov.au>

Australian Government jobs online.

<http://www.wagenet.gov.au>

Information about pay and work conditions

<http://www.enya.org.au>

ENYA - Enterprise Network for Young Australians to promote the active participation of young people in business

<http://www.innovation.gov.au/>

National Innovation Website - Information about setting up innovative businesses

<http://www.volunteeringaustralia.org>

Information about volunteer work experiences

Training Information

<http://www.getatrade.gov.au/>

This website lists skills shortages at national, state and regional levels and tells you all about apprenticeships, training and the labour market.

<http://www.australianapprenticeships.gov.au>

This website tells you everything you need to know about apprenticeships and the benefits of combining work and training. This website also has a Careers Advisor section.

www.aatinfo.com.au

This website contains Job Pathways Charts for vocational education and training in a wide variety of industries and relates training qualifications to careers.

Jane Watts

Careers and VET Coordinator

Ph 62058984

jane.watts@ed.act.edu.au

